SDX Will Sponsor Journalism Lectures

Establishment of the Sigma Delta Chi Foundation Lectures was announced this week by Theodore F. Koop, foundation president.

The inaugural series of lectures will be delivered this fall by Paul Miller, president of the Gannett Newspapers and the Associated Press; Turner Catledge, executive editor of the New York Times, and Robert U. Brown, publisher and editor of EDITOR & PUBLISHER magazine. All are Fellows of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society.

The series is designed "to promote the highest standards of journalism through searching, candid examination of professional problems," said Mr. Koop, who is vicepresident of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Washington, D.C.

Under foundation auspices, three lectures will be presented each year at universities and colleges which have chapters of Sigma Delta Chi.
